CHARGING

Please note:

We recommend that you fully charge your Womanizer™ before your first use. The charging process takes about 30 minutes. Your Womanizer may become warm during charging, this is normal. After charging, you can experience up to 30 minutes of pleasure with your Womanizer. The duration of the operating time depends on how intensely you enjoy the Womanizer.

CHARGING STATUS DISPLAY

Your Womanizer™ has a LED located under the stimulation head. It serves two purposes: it indicates that your Womanizer is on, and also acts as a charging status indicator when you are charging your Womanizer.

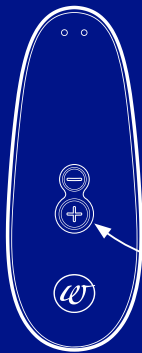

A white LED lights up as soon as you switch on the Womanizer with the on button (C).

You can tell that your Womanizer is switched on by the white light on the stimulation head (D).

Please take the following steps if you wish to charge the rechargeable battery in your Womanizer:

1. Make sure that your Womanizer and the charging device is dry.
2. Connect the USB charging cable (E) to a suitable USB connection (such as an adapter or PC, or similar).
3. Place the charging head (E) on the magnetic pins (A).
4. Despite the magnetic attraction of the pins, make sure that the charging head (E) is optimally positioned on the device, and your Womanizer is in a secure position for charging)
5. The white LED flashes when your Womanizer is charging.
6. When your Womanizer is fully charged, the white LED stops flashing and remains on, and you can remove the charging cable (E).

3. Place the stimulation head (D) onto your clitoris, applying slight pressure, so that your clitoris is in the oval opening of the stimulation head.
